

What is

The International Organisation of La Francophonie (OIF) is an institution based on sharing the French language and common values. It brings together people from various cultures and traditions having chosen to adhere to the principles of the organisation: cultural and linguistic diversity, democracy, human rights, education, research, sustainable development and solidarity.

On the occasion of the anniversary of its creation, on March 20th 1970, each year twenty-five of these Embassies and diplomatic missions in Dublin organise a Month of la Francophonie in Ireland, to celebrate those common values.
